The Association of foundrymen and metallurgists of the Republic of Belarus is the independent NGO of scientific and production enterprises and organizations of Belarus in the field of foundry and metallurgy.

The overall objective of the ALiM is an assistance in improvement of the quality and production at the foundry and metallurgical plants and organizations in the Republic of Belarus. This is being achieved through cooperation in research and development with Belarus and foreign entities, assistance to factories in introduction of new materials, technologies, equipment, computerization, establishment of business relations with the foreign national associations, firms and organizations in foundry and metallurgy.

The Association has been publishing quarterly Journal “Foundry Production and Metallurgy”(in collaboration with Belarussian National Technical University) since 1997. The Journal is member of DOAJ (Directory of Open Access Journals)

The Association is the member of the WFO (World Foundry Organization) and actively participates in the work of the WFO.

The Association has been organizing Annual International Conferences “Foundry and Metallurgy. Belarus” since 1992. The XXV Conference was convened in October 2017 with the participation of the Secretary General of WFO and 150 conferees from 12 countries. The XXVI Conference will take place on 17 - 18 October, 2018. The foreign participants are welcomed (<http://en.alimrb.by/invitation-with-application-2018-conference>).
